

Record-Smashing Entries.

Entries vastly exceeding in number any list heretofore compiled indicate growing interest in the International Live Stock Exposition, which occurs this year at Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6. No such list of exhibits has ever before been prepared, nor for that matter have the live stock producers of the North American continent previously manifested such concern in the future of that industry. Every department of the exposition will be full; interest being manifested alike in horses, cattle, hogs and sheep.

The spectacular side of the exposition will be as prominent as the practical. A series of evening attractions of unique character have been prepared and there will be no lack of entertainment to maintain the essential equilibrium. Equipoise has always been a characteristic of the "International," and the management intends to attain the standard of perfection in every department on this occasion.

Interest in the draft horse, instead of waning is growing and the nightly horse fair will excel even the superb equine display of former years.

In swine and sheep the breeders of the United States and Canada promise to eclipse all previous efforts. Wisconsin and Ontario, as usual, will make a stellar display, and the Western grower will again display demonstrate the merit of range product.

Current and threatened beef scarcity renders the fat cattle display of more than usual interest this year. That the beef interest this year is "coming back" will be effectively demonstrated, and feeders will be furnished with numerous object lessons on the subject of economy in production. In other words, the master feeders of the country will show and tell how to do it.

If you miss the 1913 International Live Stock Exposition you will be the loser.

Fittro-Kella Nuptials.

A very interesting event took place at the Presbyterian Manse on Thursday, Nov. 6, when Miss Grace Fittro, of Clinton, Iowa, was married to Clarence Kella, of East Grand Forks, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Coles, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of a number of friends. Mrs. Kella is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Bussey, of Allen ave. The young couple are making their home in East Grand Forks and will reside on N. Second Street.—East Grand Forks, Minn., Record. Mrs. Kella is well known in the Bainsboro neighborhood, having lived for some time with Mr. and Mrs. James Bussey, when they resided there.

HOLLOWTOWN.

Nov. 24, 1913.

H. E. Fawley and wife entertained C. Roy Euverard and family and P. Q. Fenner and wife Sunday.

Those spending Saturday night at J. W. Morgan's were: Elmer Moon, wife and baby and Frank Custer.

F. C. Custer and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday here.

Ella Lance and daughter, Bessie, spent Friday with Mary Hess.

Martha Althart is staying with her niece, Mrs. Pearl Vance.

Ellen McLaughlin spent one night last week with Mack Haynes and family.

Ed. Martin, wife and son, Donald, of Buford, spent one day last week with Geo. Martin and family.

Addie Euverard spent the latter part of last week with her cousin, Mrs. Rena Kellum, of Roushes Crossing.

Mack Haynes and son, Neal, transacted business in Lynchburg, Friday.

Mrs. Cinda Haynes and daughter, Josie, entertained Mrs. Nannie Davidson, Friday afternoon.

Myrtle, Florence and Ida Landess were shopping in Hillsboro Friday.

Othie Landess spent from Tuesday until Thursday with relatives, of East Danville.

A. Q. Landess and family spent Thursday with Lew Emery and family.

Miss Mae Smith was visiting her sister, Mrs. Ruth Custer, last Saturday.

Saddle Pony Wanted.

I want a good sized pony that is good under the saddle, to hire for the winter, good care and good treatment. The hire must be reasonable. Address, A. B. C., News-Herald Office.

An expert from the United States has been engaged by the Brazilian government to conduct experiments by which that country hopes to increase its cotton crop.

FORT HILL.

Nov. 24, 1913.

Fred Rhoads and family spent Sunday with the former's brother, Walter, and family, near Cedar Forks.

Miss Nannie White and little niece called on Bess L. Butler Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Stults made a business trip to Bainbridge Monday. She was accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Mary Bobb, Mrs. Myrta Cameron, of Marshall, and Mrs. Dora Butler, of Sinking Spring.

Mrs. H. M. Eubanks and youngest son and daughter were the guests of her daughter, Mrs. Chess Seaman, of near Locust Grove, from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Maude Matthews and Bess L. Butler, accompanied by Dr. J. E. Chapman, of Sinking Spring, motored to Hillsboro Thursday to spend the day.

Bess Deardoff spent Saturday night with her cousin, Eva Rhoads.

J. L. Reed and wife and Dr. J. E. Chapman and wife, of Sinking Spring, called on Mrs. Maude Matthews Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer Cameron and son, Harry, of Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Medsker and baby, of Dayton, and Mrs. Rebecca Stults spent Thursday with Mrs. Stults.

Mrs. Frank Irons and daughter, Mrs. Ben Butler, returned to their home in Middletown Wednesday, after spending several weeks with the former's parents, J. L. Reed and wife.

Mrs. John Siddens, of Cythiana, was called here Tuesday by the serious illness of her brother, John Plummer.

Miss Florence Eubanks left Saturday for an extended visit with Wilson Morris and wife, at Leesburg. She will visit friends at Washington C. H., before returning home.

Elva Cartwright and wife and Mrs. Dora Butler and son, Wm., of Sinking Spring, spent Sunday with J. P. Havens and wife.

Mrs. P. B. Cartwright, of near Cedar Forks, spent Saturday and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Artie Eubanks, enroute to Springfield.

Ben Butler, of this place, and Miss Louie Irons, of Middletown, were united in marriage Wednesday, Nov. 19, at Hillsboro, Rev. Howard officiating.

Mrs. Jane Stults will have a public sale Nov. 29.

Mrs. Blanch Cartwright and Mrs. Will Rhoads, of Sinking Spring, called on Mrs. J. P. Havens Wednesday evening.

Miss Melva Hockman was a business visitor in Hillsboro Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna Deardoff and youngest daughter and son spent Thursday with Mrs. Fred Rhoads.

Mrs. H. M. Eubanks and daughter, Florence, motored to Hillsboro Wednesday with Mrs. H. N. Head and son, Frank, of Carmel.

Bess L. Butler spent Saturday night and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Blanche Chapman, at Sinking Spring.

C. A. Rhoads and John W. Stults were business visitors in Hillsboro Saturday.

Mrs. Louisa Lawson and daughter Mrs. Mae West and two daughters spent Sunday with Charles Johnson and family, of Aech Flats.

Mrs. Button Rhoads was the guest of her brother, Chas. Hempsted, near Fairview, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Jane Stults, Mrs. Mary Bobb and C. A. Rhoads and wife were the guests of J. O. Stults and wife Sunday.

Frank and Arthur Teams and Arthur Reed returned to their home in Springfield Wednesday, after spending a few days hunting at the home of the latter's parents, J. L. Reed and wife.

Mrs. Anna Thatcher, of Michigan, is at the bedside of her father, John Plummer.

Mrs. J. O. Stults was a business visitor in Bainbridge Wednesday.

Clyde Penn and wife and two children spent Sunday with H. C. White and wife, near Cliff Range.

Elizabeth Smith and brother, of near Latham, were the guests of Cloe and Delbert Holton, from Friday until Sunday.

Your wife will never forgive you if you don't get seats for "Mutt and Jeff" before the house is all sold. That's just what happens along the line. Hundreds are turned away in many places. Don't be selfish, get them today. The seats for "Mutt and Jeff" are on sale at the Box Office of the Opera House where it will play an engagement of one night, December 2.

WACHITA FROM BIG RIVER

By E. ECKMAN.

Dreadfully the hours passed, and the noise of the storm was only broken by the occasional howls of predatory beasts.

It was after midnight when Mrs. Holdness heard the door shake as though something had fallen against it. Opening it quickly she found her son John upon his knees, reaching for the latch; and in his arms, half held and half dragged, was the form of a young Indian girl.

By a strong effort he staggered to his feet and drew the girl into the middle of the room. Then he sank utterly exhausted upon the floor.

"I'll be all right in a minute, mother," he gasped. "I'm tired out, that's all. It was awful. I never expected to see home again."

His mother bent over him, but he motioned her away. "Look after the girl first," he expostulated; "she needs it more than I. I found her on the trail. She was lost, and had fallen in the snow."

"Why didn't you leave her?" piped a shrill voice from overhead. John looked up quickly. His little sister Peggy's eyes were staring at him through the trap door.

"Oh, I couldn't do that, Peggy," he said, rebukingly. "I never thought of such a thing."

"I'd a' left her," declared the child, stoutly. "Injuns killed Uncle Tom and stole our doggie. I wouldn't have nothing to do with 'em."

Mrs. Holdness had been chafing the girl's hands, and now rose.

"She's coming to," in answer to John's inquiring look. "I'll give her something hot to drink, and then put her to bed. I think she'll be all right in a few days."

It was late the next morning before John awoke. When he went down the ladder he found the Indian girl sitting by the fire. Instead of being the dark, angular featured Indian girl he expected, she was fair and beautiful, with blue eyes and golden hair.

"Me waiting to see you!" she said, gravely. "Want to thank you for last night. Not many do like you, only great warriors. Me Wachita, from big river country. Panther Leap my father."

Mrs. Holdness started, and involuntarily shrank away.

"Panther Leap kill, burn, destroy," she said, coldly. "Hate paleface. Me, Wachita, only daughter. What you do now? Better left in snow," to John.

Mrs. Holdness' hesitation was but momentary.

"You are not an Indian?" she said, gently. "Your skin is whiter than my own girl's."

But Wachita threw out her hands in quick dissent.

"Me Indian," she declared, proudly; "all Indian. Panther Leap find me when baby, take care of me, good to me all the time; now me Indian."

Placing her hand kindly upon the girl's shoulder, Mrs. Holdness gently forced her back to her chair.

"You are sick and tired," she said, soothingly. "You mustn't think of leaving here for a week or two. You won't be able. And you ain't to blame for what your father does."

"What you do when me get well?" "Why, send you home, of course."

Indignantly. "You don't suppose we'd harm you on account of somebody else, do you?"

"Me not know," she said, simply "Me never see much of paleface."

Three weeks later Wachita suddenly announced her intention of returning home.

"Then I shall go with you," declared John. "You are not strong enough to go alone."

"No, no," she remonstrated, hastily; "you must not go. Me not want you to go. Me plenty strong. You paleface, me Indian. We two hate each other, fight, burn, kill, destroy. No good together."

"All talk, Wachita," he declared. "You're not an Indian—and if you were it wouldn't matter; I should come for you just the same. I'm willing for you to go and see Panther Leap, for he's been good to you; but within a month I shall come and ask him to let me marry you. If he attempts to kill me, all right, I shall try to defend myself; but I will come just the same. I don't believe you hate—"

But Wachita had darted away with an imperious motion for him to stay behind.

Ten days later he was trailing a bear through a thick underbrush when he heard a sudden rustle at his side, and turned to see Wachita.

"Me come back to be your squaw, John," she said. "Me fight hard, but no use. When me sure, me tell Panther Leap. He plenty mad; but he been good to me all the time, be good now. Two days mad, then he say it will of Great Spirit, and he not war on paleface any more."

Zoological Question. What animals do we find in the daily papers? The grus (news).

TRY ME

When You Buy Your Suit and Overcoat

I can please you in Style, Fit and wear, and am sure to save you money. When you have new clothes to buy call and see the largest and best stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing in Highland County.

AT THE LOWEST PRICES

Sam R. Free
THE EXCLUSIVE CLOTHIER
FREE'S CORNER, HILLSBORO, O.

SHACKELTON.

Nov. 24, 1913.

Chas. Trop and wife were guests of P. W. Charles and wife, Sunday.

Mrs. Lucinda Lewis, Mrs. Will Pence and daughter, Josephine, of Hillsboro, visited at the home of G. O. Pence and family, Tuesday.

Neal Sanders, of Cincinnati, spent Wednesday and Thursday with his sister, Mrs. Frank Orebaugh and family.

Ed. Pence and family were the guests of Joe Barnett and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Alva Overman, Mrs. Chas. Trop and Ethel Robinson spent Wednesday afternoon with General Pence and family.

Miss Rella Carpenter visited Dexter Carpenter and family, of Hollowtown, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Walter Lemon and daughter, Norma, of Hillsboro, and Mrs. Alvin Lemon, of Fairview, were the guests of J. O. Lemon and wife Friday and Joseph Siddens and wife, of Hillsboro, Sunday.

Misses Madge Faris and Anna Hopkins, of Hillsboro, were entertained at the home of Robert Hottle and family, Tuesday.

Mrs. Geo. Robinson and Mrs. Austin Robinson and daughter, Loree, spent Friday afternoon with Aunt Mahala McKee and family.

Allen Pence and wife, accompanied by Miss Willa Robinson, spent Saturday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Mrs. Lizzie Hanley, of Fairview, visited Mrs. Alva Overman Thursday.

Mrs. Lewis Orebaugh, of Hillsboro, was the guest of her son, Frank and family, recently.

Mrs. Ed. Chaney is spending a few days with her father, Russell B. Holaday, who is quite ill.

Mrs. S. R. Robinson attended a birthday dinner Thursday, given at the home of Miss Mary Purdy, of Hillsboro.

General Pence and family were guests Sunday of Chas. Igo and family of Sugartree Ridge.

Mrs. Geo. Culhan and daughters, Stella and Georgia, of Russell, Mrs. John Pence and daughter, Zelpha, of Tile Junction, Mrs. General Pence and son, Ralph, Mrs. S. J. Pence and Stella Orebaugh spent Friday at the home of Chas. Trop and family.

Preaching services at Mt. Zion Sunday, Nov. 30, at 10:30 o'clock by Rev. R. F. Shultz, of Dayton.

Tankage for Hogs

We have a car of the Highest Grade of this Excellent Hog Feed at

Richards Mill

Notice! Constable Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed, I will sell on Saturday, November 29, 1913,

at 1 o'clock p. m., at the township house in Samantha in Penn township in Highland county, Ohio, the following property to wit:

One bay Stallion, 5 years old, appraised at $150.

Taken in execution as the property of the said Greely George and Lillian George at the suit of Charles Dewey, November 5, 1913.

C. F. HARTLEY, Constable.

Bedsteads sold in India have to have upright corner posts for the hanging of mosquito netting.

Cotton Seed MEAL

A Car just received at

Richards Mill

Edna—Mr. Wylkins is an awful fibber, isn't he?
Grace—Why not always. He was saying some charming things to me last night—Somerville Journal.

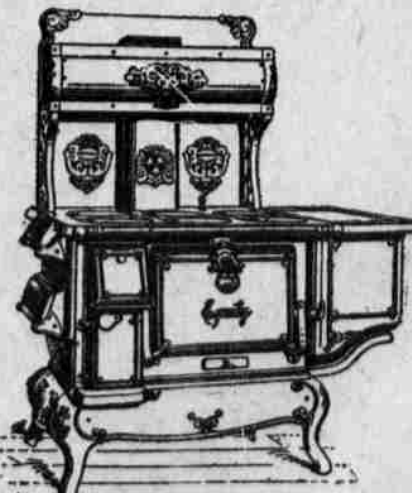

BARGAIN SALE

OF ALL THE LATEST IN MILLINERY GOODS

Beaver, Velvet and Velour Hats Fancy Plumes, Choice Feathers and Ribbons at prices surprisingly low. Get our prices before buying.

BERRYMAN'S HAT SHOP

A SOLID CAST RANGE

One that will last and not rust out; one that will hold heat and bake even and that will be a range long after a Steel or Steel Bodied Range is gone. Come in and see it and I know you will want one for mother. She must use it every day you know and if you had to use one tool or machine every day you would have a good one. Let's get mother the very best baker and cook we can.

You can buy a better range for $37.00 than you used to get for $50.00. Let us show you.

W. H. BALLENTINE, Hillsboro, O.

Good Farm For Sale

50 acres right in town, improvements good. New fences. Will sell at less than worth. Come and see me.

ROBT. D. McCLURE,
Traction Building.